DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The application has not been checked to the extent necessary to determine the presence of all possible typographical and grammatical errors. However, Applicant's cooperation is requested in correcting any errors of which he/she may become aware in the application.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Shim et al. (US 6,268,810). Shim et al. discloses the method of the claimed invention (see Fig.2), which includes, among other steps, generating (see S102) codewords satisfying predetermined run length conditions and grouping (see S110 and column 7, lines 20-25) codewords according to each run length condition; and allocating (see column 2, lines 33-67) the codewords in a code stream such that a codeword for the source word controls suppression of DC components of the code stream.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 14-18 are allowed.

Art Unit: 2819

5. Claims 2-13 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Prior Art

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure (see the attached PTO-892).
